"No Decoder"

RPWL singer Yogi Lang's debut album delivers the final piece of the sound of RPWL

Just in time for the band's tenth anniversary, RPWL frontman Yogi Lang contributes the final mosaic piece for RPWL's unmistakable sound.

The powerful singer-songwriter record is set for release on November 5th and features a top-class recording lineup (e.g. PINK FLOYD's Guy Pratt).

After guitarist Kalle Wallner's metal-flavored solo records (BLIND EGO) and the progressive "PARZIVAL'S EYE" by bassist Chris Postl, Yogi Lang's solo debut is set for release and gives us the third and final piece that completes RPWL's mixture.

Singer, keyboarder and producer Yogi Lang has summoned prominent supporters for his album:

Manni Müller on drums (Ex-RPWL, CLAUDIA KORECK), Torsten Weber on guitar (DOORS OF PERCEPTION) and distinguished bass luminary Guy Pratt (PINK FLOYD) underline and emphasize the singer's expressive lyrics in their very own exceptional way.

Special appearances by violinist Anne de Wolff (ROSENSTOLZ among others) and Dominique Leonetti, singer for French progressive band LAZULI, add another artistic layer of color to the record.

An album as complete and as personal as in any way possible: Yogi Lang defies of staffage and needless acoustic decoration – the songs float free within the emotions and leave certain topics to move drift spherically in time.

With the stunning Artwork from Artist Judith Reichart the Digipack becomes a real collector's piece. Furthermore, the digital download-package includes a bonus track, which doesn't appear on the regular album.

"NO DECODER deals with the inability to project one's thoughts and feelings on another person and consequently with the failed simple attempt to be understood," says Yogi Lang and immediately emphasizes the significant importance of his songs' lyrics. "A song can only be as good as the message behind it."
